

The IRB has published an update to the application.

If you have an application in a draft status, the next time that you open the application, the following window will appear:

Click the “OK” button and then to the left of the Save and Continue to Next Section button, click the Convert to the New Form Version button.

Next, click the Save and Continue to Next Section button throughout the application in order to update your application so that you receive any new or revised questions.
